Email Publication and Website Privacy Policy

This Email Publication and Website Privacy Policy applies exclusively to: (i) Second Street Securities, Inc.'s website located at www.secondstr.com; and (ii) the Second Street Securities, Inc. email publications. Second Street Securities, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Advent Software, Inc. Second Street Securities, Inc. adheres to the highest standards of ethical practices in all of its operations and is dedicated to protecting the privacy of all visitors to our website or redirected to parent Advent's "About Second Street" page and those participants in the eventuality of an email marketing campaign according to the following terms and conditions.

Gathering and Use of Information: Parent Advent Software, Inc. collects information voluntarily provided from their clients and potential clients (hereinafter referred to as "you" and "your") through the website, email marketing campaigns, and any other points of personal data gathering. However, we do not require our users to submit personal information to obtain general access to our website. Information that is collected is used to improve our services to you and to better serve your software needs by providing Parent Advent Software, Inc. with valuable information about your interest in our products and services. In addition, the information collected helps them evaluate what types of information might be of interest to you.

While we do share personally identifiable information with our affiliates and business partners, parent Advent Software, Inc. does not currently provide personal information to any other third party. Should our policy on the use of personal information change, we will post an updated policy on our website.

Email Publications: Parent Advent Software, Inc. may occasionally send you information, news and materials regarding Advent Software, Inc., and its products and services that might be of interest to you. Email publications may include basic technology commonly referred to as a "beacon". The email beacon has two functions. First, it determines whether an email recipient has opened that email, which helps parent Advent Software, Inc. maximize relevancy of subject lines and content as well as determine readership levels. Second, the beacon determines whether an email recipient is capable of receiving an HTML-based email. This helps them optimize email content and improve the overall communication experience.

If you prefer not to receive email information from them in the future, you can request to be removed from our e-mail lists at any time by 'unsubscribing' in accordance with the instructions on our emails to you.

Collection of Personal Information in Forms: Certain pages of parent Advent Software, Inc.'s corporate website contain forms that allow you to request information about our services and solutions. In completing a form, you may be required to provide contact information, such as your name, phone number and email address. Please note that any information you submit implies consent for use of the information, and parent Advent Software, Inc. may use the information from these forms to respond to your request and send you the information you need.

Terms of Use: Click here for parent Advent Software, Inc.'s Terms of Use regarding the www.advent.com website.

Internet users: Parent Advent records and stores information provided by users when browsing our website. Parent Advent Software, Inc. uses cookie technology to assist in making decisions about changes to our website on an ongoing basis. Cookies help us determine, without collecting personal information, which information on our websites appeals to our consumers by tracking which of our Web pages are visited and what features are most often used. You may refuse cookies by turning off that feature on your Web browser, but we do not recommend doing so.

Links: Parent Advent Software, Inc.'s Web site may contain "links" to other Web sites. We recommend that you check the specific privacy policy of any site before providing any personal information.

Changes to this Privacy Policy: Any changes to Second Street Securities, Inc.'s website privacy policy will be posted in this section.
